Mossberg® Releases 590M® Breacher Professional Series

NORTH HAVEN, CT – With the introduction of Mossberg’s Professional Series of shotguns and rifles, Mossberg continues to refine and upgrade these duty-ready firearms. Each gun goes through an enhanced assembly and quality control process and has special finishes and features. One of the newest members of this series is the Mossberg 590M Breacher Professional Series, a 12-gauge, 2.75-inch pump action that is fed from the first production shotgun double-stack magazine. The design of the 590M provides better balance and weight distribution and increased capacity while also allowing for the more compact conditions often required for breaching.

Mossberg’s 590M Mag-Fed shotgun features innovation at its core with the detachable magazine’s integral stabilizing ribs which engage the magazine directly to notches engineered into the receiver for a positive lock-up. The all-steel magazine release button and housing are optimally positioned in front of the trigger guard and will not interfere with cycling of the action. 590M compatible magazines are available in 5, 10, 15, 20-round capacities for added versatility in selecting capacity or specific load.

The 590M is fed from double-stack magazines constructed with hardened-steel feed lips, over-molded steel shell ramps and an anti-cant, rounded follower to ensure reliable feeding. Additional features include an easy-grip, molded external shell; proprietary self-lubricating polymer magazine body; heavy-duty ASTM-A-228 music-wire magazine spring for prolonged service life; removable floor plate for ease of cleaning; and durable black oxide finish on the steel components. This proprietary double-stack magazine design provides greater capacity in less magazine length versus competitor’s single-stack magazines.

Key Features of the 590M Breacher Professional Series:

- 11.5-inch heavy-walled, stand-off barrel with cylinder bore.
- One-piece construction of the stand-off barrel, machined integrally to the barrel.
- Mossberg’s Aftershock bird’s head grip which minimizes recoil and ensures a firm, sure grip.
- Cerakote® Tungsten metal exterior finish, a polymer-ceramic coating that provides added corrosion and superior abrasion resistance.
- Oversized and redesigned top-mounted safety with highly visible red indicator and easily operated by right or left-handed shooters.
- Compact forend that utilizes M-LOK®-compatible slots for mounting accessories to sides and bottom.
- Drilled and tapped receiver.
- One five-round detachable, double-stacked magazine. Accessory magazines available in 10, 15, and 20 round capacities (sold separately).
- And like all 590 pump actions, the 590M Breacher has dual extractors; steel-to-steel lockup; and twin action bars.

With its unique design and legendary field-proven, pump-action platform, the 590M Breacher Professional Series provides a durable and well-designed breaching tool for military and law enforcement agencies.
